

The Abomination of Child Marriage is Highest in Central Africa

Three countries in central africa - Niger, Chad and Central African Republic - have the highest rates of child marriage than any other countries on earth. In countries where child marriage is prevalent, girls are married at significantly higher rates than boys. Regions like this are breeding grounds for gender inequality.

